Sweetheart of all my dreams -

I want you so much. The cloud of loneliness hangs heavily over my head again as I sit here just thinking. What I wouldn't give for just an hour with you. It has only been a little over a week - but I just can't stand it away from you much longer. I really need you so much.

Ollie - will you tell me something truthfully? Did I say anything offending to discourage your coming here to see me? It was the least of my intentions - you must believe that. You are entirely welcome here anytime - you should be well aware of that.

T. Dorsey is playing "Make Believe" on the radio right now - I have my own version of make believe - when I get back I'll tell you all about it - if you want to hear it -

Our love lingers in my memory like a fantastic dream made come true by a fairy princess - You'll really have a hard time when I get back - all I have stored up - see tease you something terrible.

Now they're playing "Full Moon and Empty Arms" - my sentiments exactly - for a few nights ago we had a beautiful moon and no you to make all those moonlit dreams real. God, how I do miss you.

I told you I went downtown yesterday - well - I bought a black suit - It needs a few alterations but I like it and I hope you do, too. It doesn't have a collar - tailored - one button at the belt. Well - I can't really explain it but we all like it.

Pales saw a blanket I would like to have bought. It was blue satin - quilted with a flowered design and about 2 1/2" thick filled with down. Just something to cuddle under on a cold winter night. Of course - that was the foundation for my dreams - Something tells me I might be the one to have a hard time were I around while you were reading some of these letters. Still I'm quite impulsive as you already know and say and do what I feel.

I haven't heard any good jokes lately - so that's out. I suppose you've heard some new ones, though. I told Mary Ann about Eddie Cantor and she really thought it was good.

I'll be seeing you, dearest - I should be back about Tuesday - but I don't know when Erwin will get in.

I'm glad to hear that Ray will be getting out soon. That's really swell.

I hope your mother's hand gets okay soon. Steam burns can really hurt -

So long for this time -

With all my love - all my life.

Marta
