Dearest Martha

I
feel in a very bad mood & you would say my moral is low. I know one thing that will help it out a lot. And that's to have you in my arms again. What would you say to that? The ~~place~~ bare walls we have is no good to me. when I could be looking at you.
Of course I have a couple of pictures of my family on the wall. And none of the boys have the pin-of-girls which a little help. 2

I went to the show to night
+ they had the "My the Limit" with Fred Astaire. I think I saw that picture at the Fox Theatre with you. Am I right? I also saw a couple other pictures you have been telling me to see. I saw a "My name Joe" + "Jane Eyre". Both of them in camp because the camp gets the pictures before they come to the city. I have been looking through your old letters. I found the part in your letter about
"Jane Eyre" as she said that on the screen last night I can remember that.

So I got to work & found your letter. Do you remember that lone scene in it

Where she says "If God had gifted me with wealth & beauty. - I'd make it as hard for you to leave me as it is to leave you".
What do you think of that now?

I sure like to read your letters over. They bring back a lot of memories. And all of them good. In fact I do not know of any bad memories.

Now I would like to tell you about the picture of my named Joe. I know you saw the picture.

I thought the picture was good. But some of the scenes were not right. Do you remember the night in the Pub or place where she put on the dresses & they looked so much at home. Well, that place does not look like anything ^{over} here. That is some thing Hollywood made up. In the first place you can not get any whiskey if you do you are the lucky man. In the second place the mild & better or beer as they call it is not worth drinking.
You do not find a juke box in a place in fact they do not know what it is. And to get in a place like that you need a football team because there are so many people.

It looks like Christmas back home in the stores.
People pushing you and at any moment you might get a girl pushed in your lap.
~~as~~ That is if you get as close to a seat which is a hard thing to get. So the place is more like an American place than an English pub. Well, I guess that is enough about the picture.

I forgot to tell you in the other picture "Jane Eyre". They had one thing right - that was the roads they are small + curve a lot in 6.

back you think you are going up a old ally at home.

We are listening to a German radio station now.
They have better music than the British. The British play all the opera & stuff like that. But the Germans play some old time songs. Like you never ~~to~~ know. The British programs are no good. It's ~~but they~~ we have a station over here too.

The weather here is cool in fact very handsome cold now. We can not build any more fires here. So I guess I will wait until the sun come out again.

I did not get any letters from you for a week but I know you are studying + that is what counts. So keep up the studying. I come wait.

I guess I better close now so I can write Mother + Dad.

Miss you as I hope you miss me. So wait^{to} I see you again. My God watch over you + keep you until I return again.
With love to you + family.
